Surprising wins for Bruckner, Schilling in primary balloting

By ROBERT H. NELLIS

Voters spent 12 hours casting ballots in Tuesday's primary election in Lee County and the polling judges spent 9½ hours counting the ballots. The last precinct reported results today at 3:30 a.m.

The biggest surprises in the election were in two Republican races and were not only the victors but the margin of the triumphs.

Lawrence Bruckner topped First Asst. State's Atty. David Mandrogoc 2,736 to 1,741 for the GOP nomination to run for state's attorney. Some observers had suspected Bruckner would get the nod, but none predicted the wide margin of victory.

Richard Schilling downed Raymond Jordan in the race for the GOP nomination to run for coroner, 2,935 to 1,762. The winning margin of the victor was a surprise to most observers.

Mandrogoc managed to win only two precincts. He gained ties in two others and Bruckner took the rest.

Jordan carried only four precincts. One ended in a tie and Schilling swept the remainder.

There were two other local contests, on the Democratic side, Edward Conroy easily topped Terry Fischer for nomination to run for circuit clerk, 1,738 to 1,007. In the race for the Republican nod to run for that office Myron Olson beat Dale Simmons, 2,784 to 1,152. A candidate in this contest who publicly withdrew because of leaving the county, Kenneth Ira Spotts, received 390 votes.

County voters on both sides of the aisle deviated from state total in majorities given in the contests for governor and presidential preference.

Republican Ronald Reagan, the Dixon home town boy, 3,818 to 1,102 for President Ford while statewide the incumbent garnered 59 per cent of the vote.

Democrats gave Gov. Dan Walker a victory here over Sec. of State Michael Howlett, 1,776 to 1,272. Statewide Howlett won the nod to be Democratic nominee for governor, picking up 54 per cent of the vote.

Bruckner, the winner of the state's attorney nomination today said, "I am very impressed with the work of my staff and the citizens throughout the county, without their assistance, I couldn't have done this." Mandrogoc, the loser, commented, "I extend my best wishes to Bruckner in the general election."

The total Republican vote was 5,066 and Democrats case 3,321 tallies.

The top vote getter on the Republican side was Atty. Gen. William J. Scott, running unopposed with 4,472. The Democrats' most popular candidate was Alan Dixon, who received 2,448 votes. Dixon, on the statewide basis, topped all Democrats for the number of votes received.

In the Democratic presidential preference, county electors followed a statewide pattern giving a clear majority to former Georgia Gov. Jimmy Carter, 1,581 to 668 for Gov. George Wallace of Alabama, 320 to Sargent Shriver, and Fred Harris getting 117.

On the Republican side, county voters disagreed with the statewide nod to run for lieutenant governor, giving Joan Anderson a margin of 2,254 to 2,110 over Dave O'Neal, the St. Clair County sheriff who became the GOP nominee.

Democratic voters in the county concurred with the statewide nomination of Lt. Gov. Neil F. Hartigan, to run for re-election; the nomination of State Senate President Cecil Partee to run for attorney general, and picking Michael Bakalis, former state superintendent of schools, to run for comptroller.

The local write-in campaign effort of Margaret Brechon for nomination to run for Congress from the 16th District produced 87 votes. Mrs. Brechon is running on a pro-life platform.

Lar (America First) Daly, the perennial presidential candidate, garnered 10 votes in the county Republican primary. He received votes in nine of the county's 46 precincts, getting one in each, except for Dixon 14, where he received two.

Phyllis Roe is winner in only Ogle Co. contest

OREGON—Phyllis Roe defeated Spencer Blanchard for the Republican nomination for Ogle County Circuit Clerk in the only contested county race in Tuesday's primary election.

The winner tallied 3,261 votes to 2,548 for Blanchard. Nominated without opposition on the Republican ticket were Peter J. Woods for state's attorney and Robert E. Personette for coroner. There were no candidates for county offices on the Democratic ticket.

Ogle County Republican voters gave a thin edge to Ronald Reagan over President Gerald R. Ford, while Jimmy Carter, former Georgia governor, was a heavy choice of Democratic voters in the presidential preference primary balloting.

The final tally on the GOP side showed Reagan with 3,115 votes to 2,982 for Ford. Lar Daly garnered only 26 votes. On the Democratic ballot, Carter got 1,532 votes, outdistancing Alabama Governor George Wallace (866), Sargent Shriver (265) and Fred Harris (117).

In state Republican races Ogle voters gave Big Jim Thompson a 4,854 to 878 margin over Richard Cooper, and bucked the state trend in choosing Joan Anderson 3,088 to 2,087 over Dave O'Neal for lieutenant governor. Other Republican candidates for state office were unopposed. Incumbent Atty. Gen. William Scott led the ticket in Ogle County with 5,261 votes. William C. Harris polled 4,902 for secretary of state and George Lindberg gathered 4,802 votes for comptroller.

County Democratic voters gave Governor Dan Walker 2,122 votes to 808 for Michael J. Howlett. Joanne H. Alter showed 1,398 votes to 1,306 for Neil F. Hartigan in the race for the lieutenant governor nomination. Ronald Stackler showed a 1,282 to 1,213 edge over Cecil Partee in the balloting for attorney general.

Alan Dixon led the Democratic vote total in the county, running up a 2,122 to 588 margin over Vince Demuzio in the secretary of state race, while Michael Bakalis got 1,723 votes to 953 for Roland W. Burris for comptroller.

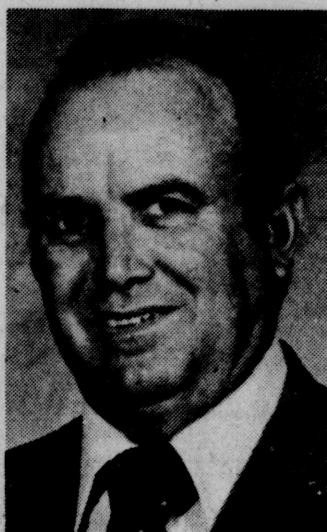

Ogle County Republicans gave John B. Anderson 5,155 votes for re-election at 16th District Representative in Congress.

John B. Roe, seeking re-election as 35th District State Senator, handily outdistanced Evelyn Farrell, 4,315 to 1,176 in his home county. On the Democratic side, Willis McKinney re-

Howlett defeats Walker for Demo nomination

CHICAGO (AP) — Secretary of State Michael J. Howlett emerged today as the clear winner of the Democratic nomination for governor, shattering the political aspirations of maverick Gov. Daniel Walker and demonstrating, once again, the clout of Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley.

Howlett, 61, given the overwhelming backing of Daley's well-disciplined party organization, piled up enough votes in Chicago to offset easily a Walker edge in balloting downstate during Tuesday's primary election.

The Walker camp had insisted throughout Tuesday night's counting that a late surge of votes would put the governor in the winner's column, but this support never materialized.

With 10,998 or 97 per cent of the state's 11,272 precincts reporting, Howlett had 54 per cent of the vote, leading Walker 788,190 to 672,724.

The governor carried many downstate counties by huge margins—but to no avail.

He swept the Rockford area, carrying Winnebago County by a more than 3-1 margin over Howlett. He won in Decatur and Macon County by a similar edge, led Howlett by a 2-1 margin in the Rock Island area and easily beat the secretary of state in the Peoria and Alton areas.

But Howlett held his own in the Bloomington-Normal area, held a slight edge over Walker in the East St. Louis area and beat the governor in the Springfield area.

The vote-rich Chicago suburbs, considered a key to Walker's chances, went to Howlett by more than 20,000 votes.

Walker, speaking through a spokesman, refused to concede defeat Tuesday night and went to bed, promising to issue a statement some time today.

Howlett thanked supporters in a brief speech and made plans to appear as grand marshal in Chicago's St. Patrick's Day parade today.

Howlett's opponent in November will be James R. Thompson, a former federal prosecutor from Chicago. Thompson won the Republican gubernatorial nomination by an overwhelming margin over Winnetka businessman Richard Cooper, who had all but abandoned his campaign in the final weeks.

Thompson promised supporters in a victory rally Tuesday night to bring "tough, honest leadership" to the governor's office.

Under provisions of the 1970 Illinois Constitution, the race for governor and for other statewide offices will be for two-year terms so that in the future state and national political campaigns will not be held in the same year.

Walker had been a thorn in the side of the regular party organization and a threat to Daley's reign over Democratic politics in Illinois since he won election four years ago.

The governor had talked openly about establishing himself as the state's top Democratic leader and his aides said they expected him to be elected President by 1980.

Daley, angry over Walker's upset victory in 1972, made defeat of the governor a top priority this year and demonstrated his political muscle in the high turnout for Howlett.

The slate of candidates for other statewide offices backed by Daley and the regular Democratic organization also was victorious in the primary, defeating rivals backed by the governor.

Incumbent Lt. Gov. Neil Hartigan easily defeated Joanne Alter, a trustee of the Metropolitan Sanitary District in Chicago who had Walker's backing.

Hartigan will face St. Clair County Sheriff Dave O'Neal in November. O'Neal defeated another Metropolitan Sanitary District trustee, Joan Anderson.

CHICAGO (AP) — Ronald Reagan is clinging to political life and it will take a miracle to save him now. But President Ford just might have a cure for the defeats he has inflicted on his challenger: the Republican nomination for vice president.

That possibility, which the President never has dismissed, almost certainly will be part of the case Ford's emissaries present as they try to coax Reagan out of the presidential race in the name of Republican unity.

Despite Ford's runaway victory in the Illinois presidential primary election, Reagan said he was going on with his campaign and told his supporters that there are better states ahead for him.

Reagan has said repeatedly that he is not interested in second place on a Ford ticket, but the option — if indeed it is there next summer — could look more inviting given the President's victorious march through the early primary elections.

Among Democrats, the signals out of Illinois read this way:

—Georgia's Jimmy Carter tightened his grip on the front-runner's role with a landslide in the presidential preference balloting and an unexpectedly strong showing in the separate delegate competition.

While the count was not complete in the delegate contests, Carter entries led for 56 of the total 169 Illinois seats at the Democratic National Convention.

—Chicago Mayor Richard J.

Daley established himself once again as the dominant man in Illinois Democratic politics and as a potential power broker at the Democratic convention.

His candidate, Secretary of State Michael J. Howlett, defeated the renomination bid of Gov. Daniel Walker, an old Daley foe.

And, in the name of favorite-son Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson III, Daley-backed delegates led for 88 national convention seats. That is a bloc of votes with which Daley could bargain come convention time.

—Sargent Shriver, the 1972 Democratic vice presidential nominee who never could get his primary campaign off the ground, ran a poor third and virtually quit the campaign. He said he would contest no more primaries save that in Maryland, his home state, on May 18. He also said he would remain on the May 1 Texas ballot so that his supporters there don't lose their chance of getting to the convention.

—Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace absorbed his second straight defeat by Carter, and his response was a replay of what he had to say after his beating in Florida a week ago: he claimed he felt good about his showing.

Carter and Wallace, Ford and Reagan meet again next Tuesday in North Carolina.

This was the arithmetic of Illinois, with 90 per cent of the 11,272 precincts counted:

Ford 414,103 or 59 per cent. Reagan 281,013 or 40 per cent. Lar Daly, the perennial Illinois candidate, 8,461 or one per cent.

That preference balloting did not commit nominating votes. They were awarded separately, with delegate candidates running in the 24 congressional districts.

With 54 per cent of the Republican delegate votes counted, candidates pledged to Ford led for 64 convention seats, Reagan for 12, uncommitted candidates for 16.

Among the Democrats, with 91 per cent counted, it went this way:

Carter 560,977 or 48 per cent. Wallace 320,632 or 28 per cent.

Shriver 189,587 or 16 per cent. Former Oklahoma Sen. Fred

R. Harris 90,562 or 8 per cent.

In Democratic delegate races, with 49 per cent of the delegate votes counted, Daley's Stevenson slate led for 87 seats, Carter for 57, uncommitted candidates for 6. Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey for 4, Wallace for 7, Walker for 1.

Ford celebrated his victory in a speech telephoned to a Republican dinner in Grand Rapids, Mich.

"That's a great victory and another real clincher in our effort to win the nomination and to go on to victory on Nov. 2," he said. "We're going to keep our unbroken string of victories."

A spokesman said Ford still feels it is up to Reagan to decide whether and when he should drop his challenge for the White House.

Reagan claimed to have met his goal by getting "something over 40 per cent of the vote."

By any standard, he was a landslide loser. But he said he never had any illusion that he could beat the Illinois Republican organization "and the promises being issued so bountifully from the White House."

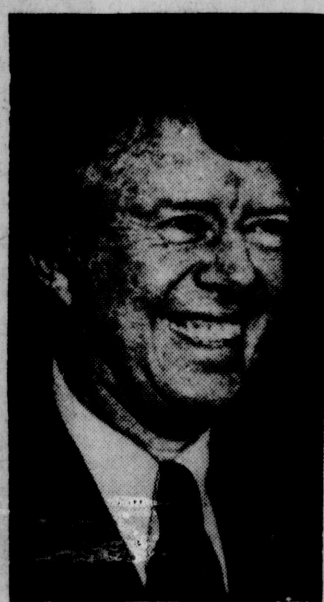

"However, the fact that I have won something over 40 per cent of the vote in this organization-dominated state once again indicates that there is major dissatisfaction within our party with the kind of leadership it has been receiving."

He said he was winning in the states that select their delegates at conventions — but he offered no evidence. He also said his prospects in the South and the West are favorable.

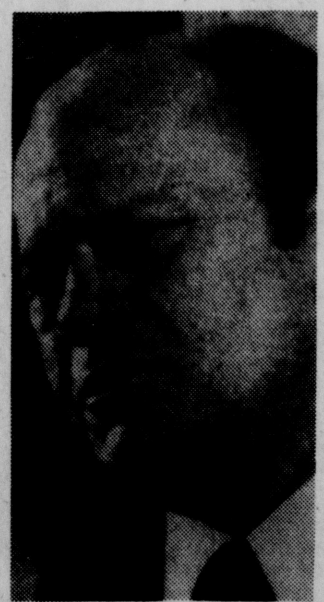

North Carolina will test his Southern strength again; Ford already has beaten him in Florida. After that, he'll have to wait until May 1 and Texas for a primary in the territory he claimed.

His campaign is running short of money, while Ford's is flourishing financially. And every setback makes his situation worse.

The Democratic candidates, meanwhile, got company. Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr. of California said he is a national candidate for the nomination, not just a favorite son. But Brown, 37, said he has not decided whether to campaign in Demo-

Religious spark indestructible

By HENRY J. TAYLOR

St. Patrick was born (the year 386 A.D.) Magnus Sucatus Patricus. He was a son of a Roman-born Christian. At 16, the boy was captured by pirates and held as a slave in Northern Ireland. He tilled the soil, avoided all temptations to become a pagan Druid, embraced the Church and labored for 30 years to convert the Irish to Christianity.

On Dec. 25 in the year 496 Clovis, the Frank, was baptized at Reims. The gates of Lutetia opened to France. A second stroke rang out on the bells and the Tartars entered Paris. Then in 563 the Irish missionary (later Saint) Columba came from Ireland to the island of Iona, the burial place of Scottish kings, and brought Christianity to the Celts.

At this moment in our tranquilizer-pill, traffic-ridden, television-happy, radiocative twilight of the 20th century can we imagine such acoustics of time? Nearly 1,500 years since St. Patrick's birthday. Who can conceive of anything more prodigious?

Rome had emperors for 500 years. Kingship was a career open to talent. Often a rabble-rouser became a ruler—a transformation requiring a very ordinary kind of charlatanism.

Vespasian came as the fourth man to be Emperor of Rome in a single year. In 285 A.D. disgusted Roman Carausius, commander of Rome's far-off fleet in British waters, proclaimed himself an independent Emperor of Britain.

Barbarian mercenaries became the chief defenders of the Roman world. The barbarian tides rolled across the provinces practically unopposed. The barbarians deposed Emperor Romulus Augustulus, the last Roman Emperor of the West, in 476. A Goth, Odoacer, became the first king.

The Church grew in power while the Roman Empire dwindled. Emperor Constantine's plan for restoring the tired and afflicted domain was the sanction of Christianity. The Edict of Milan (313 A.D.) made Christianity the official religion, though not the only religion, of the empire. And when the empire fell, the Pope in Rome was the only powerful leader left.

Europe's Dark Ages, showing almost no human progress, covered about 730 years, between the 5th and 12th centuries. Nevertheless from Clovis with his pigeons coming down from heaven to Charles VII with Joan of Arc, the Church survived.

Pope Leo VIII ruled one year, followed by Benedict V who ruled two, and there had been 29 Popes in the preceding century. Nearly everyone forecast the end of Christendom.

Through the 14th century there had been more than 200 Popes. There had been 37 pretenders. By the 15th century the Duke of Savoy, whose election as Pope was contested, set up a rival Vatican in Basel, Switzerland. There were rumblings of still another Vatican in Vienna.

Then on Sept. 12, 1683, the Turks were routed from Vienna and all Christendom celebrated the end of the Mohammedan menace to Europe.

The church was like a stern-beaten ship staggering toward the shore. But in all this it never found itself too fragile or disordered to last.

The foundation, however, exists beneath all religious faiths; the spark of the inner soul which breaks out for unending generations in all religious faiths.

Had we stood with Napoleon on the deck of the ship on the way to his last prison at St. Helena, we would have heard him make an unusual remark—unusual for Napoleon.

This despot, you recall, was typically hostile to religious thought. Nevertheless, there he stands at the end, pointing up to the stars, and you hear him remark: "Say what you please, someone created and controls all that."

The spark is there whether it appears in the gropings of some savage kneeling before an idol, the desert nomad facing toward Mecca; St. Patrick chasing the snakes out of Ireland; St. Michael on the day he drove the devil from Paradise; the vague feeling of Napoleon on a ship or even Pope John XXIII who, as he lay dying in 1963, prayed the simple prayers he learned as a child.

This spark is the indestructible giant.

Work-study rescues stagnating seniors

By DON OAKLEY

It may be questioned whether high school students today are learning more or less or as much as kids did in the old days, but they are learning it faster.

Where it used to be the rule that students carried a full schedule of studies right through the last year of high school, in many cases they are now completing their graduation requirements early in the senior year and even in the junior year.

Thus they are forced to stay in a "holding pattern," as Education USA newsletter describes it, and this has given rise to a malaise called "senioritis." For both college-bound students and soon-to-be job hunters, the senior year can be "boring beyond belief," says New York State Commissioner of Education Ewald Nyquist.

In the search for a cure for "senioritis," high schools across the country are pushing, or being pulled, toward new options for 12th graders, reports Education USA. These range from early graduation to college courses in high school to independent study projects to apprenticeship or work-study programs.

The latter is an increasingly popular option, particularly for students who don't plan to go on to college. Students work part-time, usually for no pay, with professionals or craftsmen in a variety of fields. Some students use the opportunity to find out about different occupations, while others get a head start on a chosen career.

A similar but more academically structured program is "experience-based Career Education," devised by the National Institute of Education. In this program, students pick a career area that interests them, such as health, banking or law.

During an initial 12-week exploration phase, a student may work in a hospital or in police headquarters or perhaps follow a civil case at a private law firm. The student then concentrates on one particular job for the next 12 weeks, thereby gaining both a general knowledge of a career field and specific knowledge of one aspect of it.

One Long Island high school offers college-credit courses to its otherwise "stagnating" seniors. And in yet another approach to "senioritis," California has instituted a proficiency test which permits a 16- or 17-year-old who passes it to leave school with a high school diploma.

We will no doubt be hearing about many more such innovations.

Spiralling tyranny of juvenile hoods

By TOM TIEDE

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Buried somewhere in the records of the millions of crimes that have already been committed in America this Bicentennial year, there is a statistic representing the Robertson Bennett family of Fort Collins, Colo. There is a case number, an account of the crime and an assessment of property lost but there is nothing to indicate the spiritual damage done. In this case, as in so many others that will occur this annum, the brutalization of the emotions of the victims is the real crime.

The incident in question here was savage enough. A month ago a vandal broke into the Bennett home and systematically, room-by-room, destroyed not only things but dreams and memories. Furniture was turned over, dresser drawers were emptied, clothes, books and papers were thrown on the floor.

Not satisfied with merely upsetting order, the vandal went totally berserk and killed a small dog, wrapping the body in bloody sheets. He then caused the death of two other dogs, one a pup, by setting fire to the interior of the home. One of the children's rooms was gutted, the kitchen was charred almost beyond use, several other rooms were laced with licking fire by way of randomly spilled kerosene fuel. Antiques were ruined, memorabilia turned to ash. In the end there was an estimated $40,000 in losses.

On seeing the results of the vandalism for the first time, Mrs. Bennett collapsed. Later, she and her husband were to agonize over the possible consequences had they or their children been at home. Neither has any doubts that the family, like the animals, would have been killed. Indeed, on capturing the culprit, police told the Bennetts the person was severely unstable, confessing that he burned the home "because that's the way the Indians did it," and said that he hadn't wanted to kill all the dogs, just two of them, but the third had to die because it wouldn't be fair to the first and second.

Yet that was about all the police would say of the suspect. The Bennetts were told he had vandalized before, probably numerous times, perhaps committing other crimes as well, but because of his age—17—his identity could not be divulged. Colorado state law forbids the release of any information concerning suspects under 18. The boy's name will never be printed in the newspapers because of the same law. In fact, the Bennetts are not even sure they will be able to find out the determination of his court case.

And so the Bennetts are left to blindly grope for answers to their frustrations. They have been told the boy is free until his trial and they are worried he might return. They are concerned that without energetic (their own) prosecution of the case, the boy will be let go again to rob and despoil the property and values of somebody else. In her anguish Mrs. Bennett has written to every high official in her state as well as officials in Washington. "I don't understand," she says, and talks of loading the guns in her home if there is no other way of protecting her peace and privacy.

The gun talk is of course loose, and counterproductive. Thinking more rationally, the Bennetts might understand that Colorado's juvenile protection law is largely humane and for a good purpose. Still, who can quarrel with the Bennett's bitterness, and, more important, who can adequately answer their quiet screams of confusion?

America has become a nation where people under the age of 18 commit nearly half of all the known serious crimes, yet juvenile justice and delinquency prevention starve for meaningful concern except by the increasingly numerous victims.

Publicize them? Lock them away? It has done no good in the past. And yet neither has the Father Flanagan philosophy that a kid is not responsible for his sins. I confess I haven't the answer for the Bennetts or the problem, except to submit that the nation must find itself again, in order for its children to do the same. The alternative is readily apparent—it is where we are heading at present.

Brazil is becoming a factor in soybean market

WASHINGTON (AP) — A report by the Agriculture Department today showed that soybean production in Brazil, an infant crop just a few years ago, has come of age and is giving American farmers a run for their money in world markets.

"Brazil's sharply increased exports of soybeans have moved into traditional U.S. markets in Europe and Asia," the report said. "The greatest inroads have been made in the European Community (Common Market) and in East European countries."

The report was written by Joseph Somers, an oil seed expert in the Foreign Agricultural Service. It was in a weekly issue of "Foreign Agriculture" published by the USDA agency.

Brazilian soybean output has more than doubled since 1973 from five million metric tons to an estimated 1976 crop of 11 million tons. A metric ton is 2,205 pounds and is equal to 36.7 bushels of soybeans.

The United States is still the largest producer and exporter of soybeans. Last year's U.S. crop was 41.4 million tons.

Brazilian soybean yields per acre have increased and so have the number of acres devoted to the crop.

"But more important than Brazil's rapid increase in soybean production is its new status as the major competitor of the United States in export markets for oil seeds and products, Somers said.

In 1975, Brazil's soybean exports were 5.8 million tons, on the basis of meal, eight times the 1970 volume. By comparison, U.S. exports converted to a meal basis were 13.7 million tons, only 4 per cent more than in 1970.

Somers said that until recently, Brazil shipped most of its soybeans to foreign customers before September of each year, just ahead of the U.S. harvest. "But with larger crops, Brazil is becoming a year-round supplier and in 1975 soybeans and products may for the first time have been the leading Brazilian export, surpassing both sugar and coffee in trade importance," Somers said.

Although world soybean prices have declined substantially from record peaks of a year or two ago, Somers said that Brazil appears to be solidly into production since soybeans are frequently "double cropped" with wheat for two harvests a year.

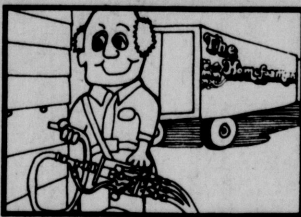

"Also, because soybean farming in Brazil is more mechanized than production of other commodities, it is unlikely — in view of the investment in soybean production — that there would be a total switch to another crop," Somers said.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Total meat production last week was up 7 per cent from the week before and 8 per cent above a year earlier, according to the Agriculture Department.

Beef output in federally inspected plants totaled 476.6 million pounds, a 7 per cent gain from the previous week and 11 per cent more than a year ago. Pork output was up 9 per cent during the week.

Prices of oil products decline

CHICAGO (AP) — The prices of gasoline, home heating oil, heavy industrial fuel and practically all other petroleum products have declined in March as a result of the federal omnibus energy bill which took effect Feb. 1, according to oil industry analyst Herbert Hugo.

"This is the first real clue that the American public has had as to the general impact of this bill on consumer prices, and it's definitely good news for the consumer," said Hugo, editor of Platt's Oilgram, an oil industry newsletter.

Hugo said in a telephone interview Sunday that the effects of the bill, passed late last year and signed by President Ford over the strong objections of oil industry, could not be determined until one month after it went into effect.

He said that so far in March, 12 major and independent oil companies have cut gasoline prices from half a cent to 2.9 cents per gallon. Only one major company, Texaco, increased prices with a one-cent hike earlier this month, Hugo said.

"If 12 out of 13 have gone down in March, it seems safe to me to say the curve will continue downward for the rest of this month," he said, adding that this is "the continuing and deepening of a trend that has been in motion since Labor Day."

Hugo said, though, that March "is going to be the low point, the basement, for consumer (gasoline) prices. I think that in April prices are going to start turning around."

"Under this 40-month energy bill," Hugo continued, "the immediate impact was to force a reduction in price of about $1 a barrel on crude domestic oil that the companies could charge. Starting in April, miniscule increases are permitted over the next 39 months. This won't lead to a melodramatic rise, but a gradual inching upward, because prices for gasoline are so far below those permitted by the government that oil companies are bleeding at the gut right now (to raise prices)."

Hugo said fierce competition has kept those prices below allowable levels, but several forces other than the provisions of the energy bill will push them up again, including an improving economy and a seasonal increase in the demand for gasoline that occurs each spring.

Meanwhile, eight of 12 major companies that supply home heating oil also have dropped prices in March, Hugo said, from half a cent to two cents per gallon.

Though the four others did increase prices, Hugo said this "should not be alarming" to consumers because the hikes are "just reflecting a cold winter" in most of the nation. He said a check of other suppliers of petroleum products showed that the prices of "jet fuel, propane, and heavy industrial fuels also went down in March."

People in the news

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Navy Capt. Eugene A. Cernan, 42, the man who left the last footprints on the moon, is retiring from the astronaut corps, officials have announced.

Space Center officials said Monday that Cernan is retiring from the Navy and from the space corps on July 1, but he has not announced what his retirement plans are.

Cernan was commander of Apollo 17, the last and longest of the American space flight series that first put man on the moon. He and astronaut Harrison H. Schmidt spent more than 22 hours exploring the lunar surface, using a small battery-powered car to travel for miles.

They gathered a record 240 pounds of lunar material during three extended moon walks.

TOKYO (AP) — King Hussein and Queen Alia of Jordan headed home today aboard their special plane after a week-long visit to Japan.

Emperor Hirohito and Empress Nagako earlier visited the state guest house and bade farewell to the Jordanian royal couple before they left for the airport.

A joint communique issued Monday said the 40-year-old Jordanian monarch and Japanese Prime Minister Takeo Miki agreed that Japan and Jordan should further enhance their mutual relations and cooperate for the promotion of world peace and stability.

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Oscar-winning composer Johnny Mercer has been discharged from Huntington Memorial Hospital after a five-month stay during which he underwent brain surgery.

The 67-year-old Mercer left the hospital on Monday and was taken to his Bel-Air home by ambulance for further convalescence. Surgery was performed last October to remove a nonmalignant tumor, hospital officials said.

Mercer received Academy Awards for his songs, "Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe," "In the Cool, Cool, Cool of the Evening," "Moon River," and "The Days of Wine and Roses." He also wrote the title theme for the movie "Laura."

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Actress Valerie Perrine and actor

Burt Reynolds will be cited by the United Motion Picture Association when it honors its top choices in the industry Thursday night during its annual convention here.

Recipients of the awards, which are given to the best in their field each year, also include producer Elliot Kastner and director Steven Spielberg. Universal Pictures will also receive an award as the motion picture company of the year.

The UMPA is an association of western Missouri and Kansas theater owners.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actor Henry Fonda will undergo surgery for removal of a non-malignant lung tumor on Thursday rather than today as was originally reported, says a spokesman for Fonda's agent.

The 70-year-old actor entered Cedars-Sinai Medical Center on Sunday. The tumor was reportedly discovered during a routine physical examination.

Fonda's hospitalization forced cancellation of a 2½-week stage tour of major U.S. universities in which he was to perform in "Clarence Darrow," the spokesman said Monday.

INA to hold workshop at Northern

DE KALB — U.S. Representative Abner J. Mikva (D-Skokie) will be the keynote speaker when the Illinois Nurses Association (INA) convenes at Northern Illinois University this month.

The INA will hold a one-day workshop, "Nurses Involved in Political Action," Thursday. Several hundred registered and student nurses are expected to attend according to Marian Frerichs, R.N., an NIU nursing professor and INA president.

Mikva is scheduled to speak on national health insurance legislation. Included in his talk will be an explanation of pending national health insurance bills and what their passage would mean to the health care consumer, taxpayer and those in the health care industry. He will also explain what nurses can do to help their elected representatives in terms of voting on health or any other legislation.

Mikva is scheduled to talk from 3 to 4 p.m., in the Carl Sandburg Room of the Holmes Student Center and will be followed by a 30-minute question and answer session. It is the only segment of the workshop which will be open to the general public.

Also speaking at the conference will be Rep. Glenn Schneider (D-Naperville), an NIU alumnus who was influential in last year's revisions by the General Assembly of the Nurse Practice Act. Schneider will tell nurses how they can help their elected lawmakers on pending legislation and will also explain how a bill is passed in the Illinois legislature.

Nurse Frerichs will speak on the current status of the Board of Opinion.

The board, established as part of the Nurse Practice Act last year, will have eight members (four doctors and four nurses), selected by the governor, whose duty will be to provide answers in medical cases relating to nurses' and doctors' duties, abilities and limitations.

Frerichs said the INA submitted a list of recommendations to the governor last December but that he has not yet announced the appointments. The board replaces the old Joint Practice Committee.

Another NIU faculty member, Dr. JoAnn Ashley, R.N., will speak on organized involvement for political effectiveness, explaining the Nurses Coalition for Action in Politics (N-CAP) and the Illinois Political Action Committee (I-PAC) and why and how nurses should become involved in political action.

Representative Claudia Meier, R.N., from Minnesota, will tell about her personal experience leading to her election to the state's House of Representatives and as state representative, how and why nurses become politically involved and how they can help their elected representatives.

Jane Usalfer, R.N., the head of INA's Continuing Education Division and a professor at Rush University at Presbyterian St. Luke's Hospital in Chicago, will explain the concepts behind mandatory continuing education included in legislation INA will propose to the 1977 assembly.

The legislation, if enacted, would stipulate that a nurse cannot have her license renewed, beginning in 1977, without furnishing the state with proof that she has been continuing her education and that she is still competent to practice.

Julia Chihak, R.N., a member of the State Advisory Commission to Gov. Daniel Walker and INA's official lobbyist, will discuss the 1974 Health Resources and Planning Act, the current status of the implementation of the act, its implications for health care and how nurses can become involved.

According to 1974 legislation, nine of the 11 Health Services Agencies have officially been appointed, with DuPage County and Chicago pending.

Editor's Note: Tuesday's Ann Landers column was devoted to comments and opinions of Ann's new picture. It was assumed by the editors that the Telegraph had not received it. Field Enterprises was contacted and a request for the columnist's most recent photo was made. Upon receiving it, it was learned that the "New" picture is actually the same one that the Telegraph has been running for the past few months. The Telegraph will return to using the "new" picture.

Dear Ann Landers: My wife insists she knows some women who have beat up their husbands during a heated argument.

I can understand a woman emerging victorious in a tennis match or a golf game—or even being a better bowler or skier than her husband, but the thought that a man would marry a woman who could physically overpower him is utterly inconceivable to me. I don't believe it is possible. Do you? — Keystone L.

Dear K.: Of course it's possible. At this very moment I'm sure somewhere in the world several wives are beating up their husbands.

Many women are in much better physical condition than their mates. They can pack a mean wallop and are faster on their feet. That's all it takes, Mister.

Of course husband beaters exist

Dear Ann Landers: Here's a problem I've never seen in your column. It is driving several families in our neighborhood crazy — especially mine.

There's this woman who lives down the block who insists on walking her dog all over our lawns at night. What the dog does is bad enough, but we could live with that. Our major complaint is that she walks very close to our windows. It is terribly upsetting to see a pair of eyes peering at you from the outside when you turn on the bathroom light.

I have written three notes to this creepy character and several neighbors have written also. No response of any kind. A few people have even gone to her home and told her to cut it out. She has ignored their pleas. We phoned the police but they say they can't do anything unless they catch her and they are too busy to tail her. Any suggestions? — Sick Of Peeping Mary

Dear Sick Of P.M.: Any lawyer will tell you that Mary is trespassing on private property. Looking into windows is an additional offense. Both are clearly against the law. Phone an attorney and he will advise you.

Dear Ann Landers: I am 22 years old and have known for a long time that I should write to you, but I never had the nerve. The problem is a brown birthmark on my cheek that has bothered me all my life. People are always asking me if I have dirt on my face. It's embarrassing to them and to me when I tell them, "No, it isn't dirt, it's a birthmark."

I once tried a skin bleach but it didn't help; in fact, it irritated my skin and caused a miserable rash. Do you know if surgery can remove this awful thing? Would a doctor have to graft skin from another part of my body? If so, I would be laid up for quite a while and I can't afford to lose that much time from work.

Please give me some advice, Ann. — Blemished

Dear Friend: Bleaching is NOT the answer. For a temporary solution, there are excellent cover-up creams available at most drugstores and I hope you will buy one immediately.

A permanent solution is not a skin graft, but a sanding procedure called abrasive planing. It is done by skin specialists (under anesthesia). You'll be a mess for a couple of weeks, but when the scabbing disappears, you'll have a pinkish scar for a while (which can be covered by makeup), then gradually it should fade and your face will be perfectly normal.

A rather large bit of luck

By Oswald & James Jacoby
The last thing South wanted to do was to get to seven diamonds, but his partner's five notrump was the grand slam force. This tells South to bid seven if he holds two of the three top honors in diamonds.

South looked at the queen of hearts lead for some time. His first thought was to discard a spade from dummy and settle for down one. Then he thought some more, whistled "With a little bit of luck" and proceeded to make his contract.

More than a little luck was needed. He had to ruff three hearts in dummy. Those three ruffs plus his own four trumps, five clubs and one spade counted to 13 tricks.

South ruffed that first heart, led a low club from dummy and finessed his nine spot. One bit of luck. He ruffed a second heart, returned to his hand with the queen of clubs. No one ruffed in. Second bit of luck. He pulled trumps. They broke 3-2 and he had his 13 tricks.

Pre-school hearing clinic to be in Ohio and Walnut

The Manlius, Western, Ohio, Walnut and Bureau Township schools in cooperation with the B.M.P. Tri-County Special Education Cooperative and the Illinois Department of Public Health will conduct a pre-school screening clinic for children ages 3, 4 and 5 on Wednesday, April 7 and Thursday, April 8 at the Manlius Elementary School.

The clinic has been developed to detect possible problems in the areas of development such as: vision, hearing, speech and language, muscular coordination, social or emotional, learning, and other suspected problem areas that may cause difficulty when the child enters school. A lead poisoning test will also be available.

Early detection of any problem enhances the possibility of remedying the weakness before it becomes a serious handicap. Recent state legislation has directed school districts to screen and provide for preschool age children needing special services.

Parents of pre-school children (ages 3-5) are urged to participate by having the screening tests given to their children. This service is free of charge. Interested parents may register their children for the screening clinic by phoning the school district in which they reside by Friday, March 26 at the following numbers: Ohio 376-2934; Walnut 379-2900.

Detectives of the Lee County Sheriff's Department returned to Dixon from Hammond Tuesday night with William S. Santa, 19, and a 16-year-old juvenile boy. ## St. Pat's Day, 1776

On St. Patrick's Day, 1776, George Washington led his triumphant troops into Boston to end a siege that had lasted more than 8 months. The Americans did not interfere with the British who fled the city by ship. A tacit agreement had been reached between the British commander and Washington. The British promised not to burn Boston, if the Americans would allow them to sail away quietly as soon as bad weather cleared. Because it was St. Patrick's Day, Washington decided to honor the Irishmen within his ranks. He gave the order of the day to General John Sullivan and made "St. Patrick" the password for March 17, 1776.

DO YOU KNOW — Who was the British commander who evacuated Boston on March 17, 1776?

TUESDAY'S ANSWER — The Nation of Islam is known as the Black Muslims.

Nevada town literally split by railroad tracks

ELKO, Nev. (AP) — More than 40 times a day, this northern Nevada town of 9,500 is split in two.

Lying on two main east-west railroad lines, the city's central district is riddled with rail. There are 17 track crossings in an eight block area alone.

Lengthy transcontinental freight trains lumber through Elko about twice an hour. Traffic is hopelessly snarled and entire neighborhoods are completely isolated. Local authorities say a couple of lives are lost each year at the crossings, including motorists who make a last minute dash across the tracks to avoid the wait — and don't make it.

Occasionally the right combination of railroad traffic makes it impossible for cars or pedestrians to cross anywhere in the town for periods up to three hours.

But Elko's railroad woes may be easing with the implementation of an experimental federally-funded bypass program that eventually may be used to solve the track problems of hundreds of American cities that grew up along rail lines.

Under a pending federal demonstration project, a 5.6-mile consolidated track corridor will be laid through downtown Elko to solve the traffic problems and provide more efficient rail service.

The Federal Highway Administration has approved a new alternate route for the corridor, which will replace the central city sections of both the three-track Western Pacific line and the twin-track Southern Pacific line. The five tracks will become two along the new consolidated stretch.

Senate and House versions of the Federal Highway Act of 1975, currently under joint conference consideration, both include $16 million for Elko's Project Lifesaver. The federal government will share 95 percent of the cost, with the city, state and railroads sharing the rest.

Ira Rackley, a consulting engineer working on the project, says construction may start within a year, with all phases of construction to be completed in about five years.

After almost two years of city-financed planning work, Elko is the first of four demonstration sites in the country to have a final environmental impact statement and route approved, Rackley said.

Some 185 U.S. cities have formally notified the federal government that they are interested in similar railroad bypass projects in their downtown sections.

But Congress has decided that it won't provide funds for more projects until the demonstration projects are completed, Rackley said, adding that municipal officials across the country are watching what happens in Elko.

"It's the smallest of all of the projects but it incorporates all of the problems," Rackley said.

"How we handle the downtown right-of-way will probably set a precedent. In other words we're kind of a Guinea pig."

WHAT A WONDERFUL WAY TO LOSE FAT!

THE "MODEL-ETTS" WAY HELPS CURB YOUR APPETITE—HELPS YOU LOSE THAT EXTRA WEIGHT—NO CALORIE COUNTING! •NO EXERCISES! •NO SPECIAL DIETS!

Thanks to a group of New York doctors, you can now lose pounds of ugly fat without going on any special diet, without cutting out any special foods.

HELPS REDUCE HUNGRY MOMENTS

These New York doctors discovered a food adjuvant called "MODEL-ETTS."

"Model-etts" does remarkable things. It helps you cut down your caloric intake by a natural automatic curbing of the appetite and of the desire for foods, resulting automatically in a reduced intake of food.

Before "Model-etts" was offered to you, it was tested clinically by the doctors on a large group of non-glandular overweight men and women.

The doctors carefully checked results, and here is what they found:

1. Weight losses of 6 to 20 pounds without any ill effects whatsoever.

2. 96% of the men and women who used "Model-etts" lost weight.

"Model-etts" is absolutely safe. It is a food adjuvant—not a drug.

So, start today to shed those unwanted pounds and inches. If your condition is glandular or organic, see your doctor. "Model-etts" may help you stay on the diet your doctor recommends. Ask him about it.

You can get a two month's supply of "Model-etts" for $5.00 on money back guarantee. In clinical tests, "Model-etts" was 96% successful. "Model-etts" may not be 100% successful in all cases, but you take no risk in trying "Model-etts" on our Money Back Guarantee.

Come to General Nutrition to get "MODEL-ETTS." The sooner you start, the sooner you may have the loss of weight you yearn for.

Sounds too good to be true
BUT IT IS TRUE!

How Model-etts Curbs Your Appetite
In the opinion of the supervising physician, based on the average of weight losses in the clinical tests, his calculations showed that 1 Model-etts Wafer has the hunger satisfying capacity of 1 pound boiled potatoes or 4 eggs or 5 slices of white bread, yet it contains only 6 calories.

Reagan campaign feeling fund pinch

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ronald Reagan's Republican challenge, already beset by a primary election losing streak, is in far weaker financial shape than President Ford's campaign.

A picture of heavy campaign debt and million-dollar bank borrowing is painted in new Reagan reports filed with the Federal Election Commission. And those reports don't take into account the critical defeats the former California governor suffered in New Hampshire and Florida.

While the Reagan campaign was saddled with a $490,000 net deficit at the end of February, Ford's campaign had $949,212 cash on hand, offset by only $27,565 in debts.

During February, Reagan took in $750,000 from private sources, not counting $1.088 million borrowed from a Washington bank. Ford's campaign during the same month raised $1.513 million privately.

Nearly all of the Reagan bank loans were repaid during February. The bulk of Reagan's debt was for campaign staples such as envelopes, mailing services and for consultants.

State by state figures show Reagan outpacing Ford in all the early primary states, including Massachusetts, where Reagan forces professed to wage no campaign and claimed the 15 delegates they won there were a bonus.

In New Hampshire, Florida, Illinois and North Carolina, the other principal states in the first wave of primaries, Reagan outspaced Ford during the first two months of the year by margins ranging from 5 to 4 to 2 to 1.

But Reagan could be sorely pressed in the coming weeks, particularly if his defeats cut into his fund-raising ability.

On the Democratic side, Jimmy Carter showed the best private fund-raising ability among the three leading candidates whose reports were at the FEC. He pulled in $401,130 in private money during February, almost twice the $208,061 garnered by Rep. Morris K. Udall and four times the almost $104,207 donated to Sen. Henry M. Jackson. The reports barely had time to reflect Carter's Feb. 24 victory in New Hampshire and did not at all show whether Jackson's fund raising was improved by his March 2 Massachusetts win.

Compare the Eagle Way!

Specials and Gimmicks?

It's really too bad, but many shoppers measure food savings only by looking at the advertised "specials" they see in a food ad...or by the many different games and gimmicks a supermarket offers.

The Eagle Way!

A sensible way to measure food savings is to judge a supermarket by the total amount you spend for all you take home. That's the Eagle Way to savings. No occasional "specials." No stamps or games. Just plain, sensible low prices you can depend on to give you savings on your family's food bill.

A chance for Leon

By ALEX SACHARE
AP Sports Writer

Leon Douglas, who overwhelmed a second-team All-American last time out, gets a chance to take on No. 1 Thursday night.

Douglas, the 6-foot-10 senior of sixth-ranked Alabama, goes against first-team All-American Kent Benson in the key matchup as the Crimson Tide meets unbeaten and top-rated Indiana in a Midwest Regional semifinal of the NCAA basketball tournament at Baton Rouge, La.

"I'm looking forward to Indiana," said Douglas, who was the catalyst in Alabama's 79-64 upset of North Carolina last Saturday, scoring 35 points and grabbing 17 rebounds against Tar Heels center Mitch Kupchak. "I like a challenge. I'd rather play against the best."

"All-American stuff doesn't bother me," added Douglas, a third-team All-American. "I just want to play a game — and win."

Douglas may have a slight edge in quickness over Benson, a 6-foot-11 junior, although the Indiana center appears to be a bit more physical. "I feel I have to outquick my opponents," said Douglas. "My speed is my best asset."

Both coaches, meanwhile, are approaching the game apprehensively.

"We will be playing a truly outstanding basketball team, well-coached and with exceptional ability," said Indiana's Bobby Knight. "Leon Douglas is the finest center we will have faced, and he has teammates who complement his abilities and give the team many dimensions. It is a unique team in that it has great quickness without sacrificing size and strength."

"We are greatly impressed by them. We will have to play our very best to maintain a chance to win."

And that's the favorite talking.

C.M. Newton, coach of underdog Alabama, said, "To have gone unbeaten over the past two regular seasons like Indiana has done is mind-boggling. But if we do our part, it will be a good game."

In the other Midwest Regional semifinal, second-ranked Marquette puts its 22-game winning streak on the line against Western Michigan.

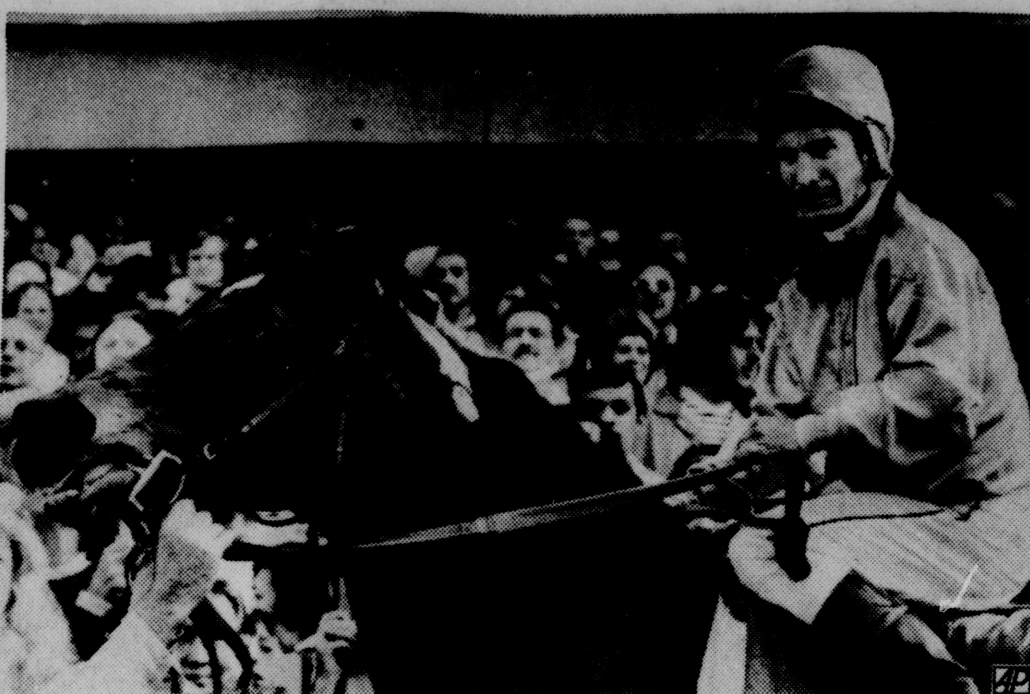

Defending champion UCLA, which won the national title 10 of the past 12 years under John Wooden, will have a home-court advantage in the West Regional as it goes for its first crown under Coach Gene Bartow. The fifth-ranked Bruins will meet Pepperdine in one semifinal of the West Regional.

Players expected to say no

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — The players association's executive board was expected to rubber-stamp today chief negotiator Marvin Miller's denunciation of the baseball owners' "final" proposal to settle the prolonged labor dispute.

Now, not only spring training — delayed by the owners since March 1 — was in danger, but so was the scheduled April 8 start of the season.

"It (the season opening) is getting close and every hour it is more in jeopardy," said American League President Lee MacPhail after Miller tore apart the owners' proposal and charged the baseball executives with a mammoth publicity ploy.

"I'm shocked," said John Gaherin, management's chief negotiator. "He (Miller) has put this thing in some position."

MacPhail said the owners were adamant on what they considered a far-reaching proposal that would change the face of baseball for years to come.

"We won't change a colon, not a semicolon," MacPhail said. And then to emphasize their determination, the owners' committee packed its bags and went home.

"Miller will telephone Mr. Gaherin in New York tomorrow (Wednesday) with the Executive Board's decision," said MacPhail, who appeared weary and bleary eyed after six days of fruitless negotiating.

"Will there be a season?" MacPhail was asked. "I don't know," murmured the American League boss.

Gaherin, too, appeared tired and admitted disappointment at the turn of events. He and the owners felt they had whipped together an offer the players couldn't refuse — one that gave the players the controversial one-and-one option rights, but with built-in safeguards to protect balanced competition in baseball.

"Their tone was a tone of rejection," Gaherin said after Tuesday's negotiating session with Miller and some 25 of baseball's brightest stars.

Gaherin was asked if the almost certain rejection by the players' Executive Board meant that talks had collapsed.

"I'm not going to say collapsed," he replied. "But our offer will be withdrawn. It won't hinder the (future) bargaining."

Both Gaherin and MacPhail emphasized that the owners' 10-page proposal delivered Tuesday was a "take-all, leave-all" proposition.

MacPhail said the Tuesday talks concerned clarification of some of the owners' proposals, not the merits of the offer.

They answered questions from the players and from Miller.

Earlier, Miller held a news conference along with the players and chipped away at the owners' proposals.

He said in effect the owners' version of the one-and-one option was a farce.

"The players would not be free agents in the Messersmith sense," Miller said. "Nor has the issue of liability been settled. It's been reduced."

The Messersmith reference was to an arbitrator's decision last December in the case of pitcher Andy Messersmith of the Los Angeles Dodgers. The arbitrator ruled the reserve clause in the standard player contract enabled the player to play one year with a contract, then not sign the following season and play out his option, becoming a free agent the following season.

Under the arbitrator's ruling, subsequently upheld by two federal courts, Messersmith became eligible Tuesday to sell his services to any of the 24 major league clubs.

The owners, in their proposal, offered a one-and-one option for the next several years, but they added that free agents could deal only with a maximum of eight clubs, selected in the inverse order of the previous season's standings. If the eight clubs pass, then the player could try and sell himself to the rest of the teams.

"It's a new kind of free agent draft," said Miller. "Messersmith is free to all 24 clubs, the other players with a maximum of eight."

Then, Miller turned his guns on Commissioner Bowie Kuhn. Miller pointed out that Kuhn had promised to open the spring training camps if the commissioner felt progress was being made in the negotiations.

"I think progress has been made," Miller said. "They (the owners) have come a distance toward our proposal. This is progress."

Miller added: "Now I'm wondering if this is progress. Obviously, Kuhn doesn't. The camps are still closed."

Miller contended the owners are concentrating more on public opinion than negotiations.

"Always that is a part of collective bargaining, but they've gone overboard," Miller said.

Miller said he had promised to present the proposal to the association's Executive Board but said he would do so with a recommendation that the board reject the offer.

"This offer is peculiar," said Miller, "because I've never seen a proposed agreement that has a raft of matters still to be discussed, some of which have never been negotiated."

Miller said there were an awful lot of "contract hookers" in the agreement. He cited that the owners wanted a four-year agreement but with the unilateral right to reopen after two years.

Miller said he had no doubt the owners' proposal would be defeated by the executive board.

"I have a reading from the players that they are opposed to it in its present form," Miller explained.

Mt. Morris girls defeat Dixon

By JIM SPURGEON
Telegraph Sports Writer

Sarah Reckmeyer sank two free throws with :07 left in the game to give the Mt. Morris girls varsity interscholastic basketball team a 48-45 victory over Dixon at Lancaster Gymnasium Tuesday night.

Dixon trailed by as much as 10 points at halftime but made a great attempt to come back, only to fall three markers short. Mt. Morris used a patterned offense to rack up effectively 28 first-half points. Dixon's defense toughened in the third quarter and held the visitors to eight markers. Dixon had 16 points in the period to pull within two (36-34).

The home team tied the game on three separate occasions in the first quarter but could never surpass the visitors. Betsey Flanagan scored on an assist from Donna Pinegar to tie the game at 36-36 to begin the final frame.

Rose Yocum came back with two for Mt. Morris but Lori Heeg knotted the game once more at 38-38 with 7:13 remaining. Earleen Hinto scored to give the visitors a two-point advantage, but Heeg again tied the contest via an offensive rebound.

Yocum then connected on a bucket to put Mt. Morris ahead to stay with 4:34 left. Kay Schrock closed the gap to one on a free throw, before Karen Leamanczyk upped it to three points with 3:00 to go. An offensive rebound basket by Pinegar and a pair of Yocum free throws made it 46-43.

Pinegar then converted an offensive rebound to narrow the gap to 46-45 with :11 left, but the Reckmeyer charity tosses iced the win for Mt. Morris. The visitors controlled the first half, outscoring Dixon 18-12 in the first stanza and 10-6 in the second period.

Mt. Morris took an early 8-2 advantage on three baskets by Reckmeyer, plus one by Yocum. Flanagan scored Dixon's opening bucket. The home team closed the gap to two on baskets by Marty Shroyer, plus an offensive rebound bucket by Heeg.

Dixon could then manage only six free throws the remainder of the quarter and was cold in the second quarter when the home team could manage only six points. "We played excellent game tonight," Roy Bridgeman, Dixon head varsity coach, commented. "Yocum was the best player we've seen all year."

Yocum led all scorers with 26 points via nine baskets and eight free throws. Reckmeyer added a dozen markers for the winners. Heeg led Dixon with 17, followed by Shroyer with nine and Pinegar with seven.

Dixon ended the regular season with a 7-5 record and will now travel to Kewanee March 25 to participate in the NCIC tournament.

Bulls win 120-87

CHICAGO (AP) — "You never know when nights like this will come," said Phoenix Suns Coach John MacLeod.

"The Bulls did the same thing to us tonight as we did to them last year. They just out-executed us, outthrusted us, were more aggressive and played with intensity," MacLeod said after his Suns were defeated 120-87 by the Chicago Bulls in a top-sided National Basketball Association game Tuesday night.

"It's hard to believe they (the Bulls) have lost so many," MacLeod concluded.

Rookie John Laskowski and All-Star Norm Van Lier combined for 39 points to lead the Bulls to their 21st win in 67 games this season.

The defending Midwest Division champions broke the game open in the first half behind the outside shooting of Laskowski and Van Lier and led 55-34 at halftime.

Tom Boerwinkle controlled the offensive and defensive backboards in the third period and the Bulls, capitalizing on poor Phoenix shooting, opened a 90-63 third-quarter bulge and coasted to victory.

Alvin Adams led Phoenix scorers with 15 points. Paul Westphal added 13 markers, as the Suns shot an ice cold 30 per cent from the floor.

Chicago Coach Dick Motta seemed pleased with the victory, but he had other things on his mind too.

"There's no question that the upcoming draft is on our minds. I realize that there will be a heavy ration of hardship cases, and of course I will have to take a hard look at Scott May of Indiana and Robert Parrish of Centenary. But we're also high on Mitch Kupchak of North Carolina, John Lucas of Maryland and Leon Douglas of Alabama."

"As for our game tonight, the only difference is that we made our shots court. Adams had a shooting night for Phoenix and when he doesn't hit from the outside they have problems," Motta said.

Eight teams left in AA

By The Associated Press
 Aurora West, Thornridge, Galesburg, Morgan Park and Oak Park were among the favorites to advance Tuesday to the quarter-finals of the Class AA Illinois High School Basketball Tournament which is expected to be a grand shootout because of a lack of an outstanding team.

Only Aurora West and Morgan Park were able to breeze through first-round games in Tuesday's supersectionals which earned the winners a trip to Champaign and the University of Illinois Assembly Hall.

Aurora West smashed McHenry 53-40 and Morgan Park captured the Chicago Public League title and a quarter-final berth with an easy 75-60 victory over Vocational.

Aurora West dumps McHenry

By MIKE CUNIFF
 DeKALB—Aurora West head varsity coach John McDougal celebrated his 52nd birthday with a 53-40 victory over McHenry in a Class AA Supersectional basketball game in the Chick Evans Fieldhouse, here, Tuesday afternoon.

The victory advances Aurora West to Champaign, where the Blackhawks will now meet Thornridge at 12:15 Friday in the first game of the quarter-finals of the Class AA tournament. Aurora West improved its overall record to 28-2 and notched its 23rd consecutive triumph via the easy win Tuesday.

Larry Hatchett, a 6'2" junior guard, started the Blackhawks on the road to victory by tossing in a quartet of first-period baskets, including an offensive rebound and two jump shots from 20 feet.

Jay Bryant added two buckets, while 6'8" sophomore center Bruce Johnson chipped in with three points as Aurora West gained a 15-6 advantage. McHenry trimmed the lead to seven (15-8) at the start of the second quarter, but then faded.

Aurora West dominated the second and third periods and McHenry could get no closer than 11 markers during the final half. The winners canned 10 of 18 field goal attempts in the opening 16 minutes, while limiting McHenry to 6 of 25.

Ron Hicks pulled down five rebounds and Hatchett four in the initial half as the Blackhawks held a 17-11 advantage in cornering caroms. Hicks had four points off two Bryant passes in the second stanza while Joe Michels chipped in with three points.

Steve Koerber had four markers for McHenry, two on a layup after Hicks tried to save a ball going out-of-bounds with :01 to go. Hicks fired the loose ball back into the hands of Koerber, who converted the mistake for two points.

Johnson ended with six baskets and five free throws to pace the winners with 17 markers. Haatchett canned six of a dozen field goal attempts to finish with 12 points.

Aurora West finished with 21 of 44 field goal chances for 48 per cent, plus 11 for 17 at the charity stripe. Terry Reilly hit eight baskets (23 shots) to lead

West (28-2), Marion (20-8) vs. Decatur Eisenhower (24-4), Morgan Park (25-5) vs. Galesburg (27-3) and Loyola Academy (22-8) vs. Oak Park (26-4).

The narrowest game Tuesday was Thornridge's triumph over Homewood and it marked the third time this season the Falcons had defeated Homewood on a last-second shot. Cunningham's basket accounted for the only points scored in the overtime as Homewood played for one shot and failed when Dave Goff missed.

Carter scored eight of his 22 points in overtime to lead Eisenhower past Normal in what was Eisenhower's third victory over Normal this season with another in overtime and still another by one point.

John Mann's basket with 37 seconds left in regulation play lifted Normal into an extra period. Mann scored 22 points and Randy Smithson had 20 for Normal.

Scott Kelley scored 24 points to lead Galesburg past Moline. Jim Hallstrom of Moline topped all scorers with 26 points.

McHenry with 16 markers. Koerber added 11.

Brett Decker helped out with seven points and 10 boards plus three assists. Hicks grabbed 11 rebounds and Johnson nine for the Blackhawks in a final 40-28 edge. Bryant chipped in with five assists and Michels four.

Messersmith auction heats up

By The Associated Press
 The Andy Messersmith auction is expected to heat up today as more major league clubs make their pitch for the free agent who won 39 games for the Los Angeles Dodgers the past two seasons.

The Chicago White Sox and St. Louis Cardinals phoned their offers for Messersmith's services to the 30-year-old right-hander's agent, Herb Osmond, on Tuesday, while Ted Turner, the new owner of the Atlanta Braves, tendered his bid personally.

The San Diego Padres have said they plan to make an offer and a host of others are expected to follow suit in the auction which could bring back memories of last winter's Catfish Hunter sweepstakes, won by the New York Yankees for $3.75 million.

"I anticipate a lot of action," Osmond told The Associated Press from his offices in Newport Beach, Calif. "Andy's still a hell of a pitcher, and he's the only free agent around right now. Some teams could obviously use him."

One which could use him but apparently won't get the chance is Los Angeles, which refused to grant Messersmith's request for a no-trade clause a year ago. He played the 1975 season without signing a contract and over the winter was ruled a free agent by a panel which included arbitrator Peter Seitz.

20 HOUR SALE

ISN'T IT FUNNY SALE

FRIDAY, MARCH 19TH
9 A.M. - 9 P.M.

SATURDAY, MARCH 20TH
9 A.M. - 5 P.M.

IF YOU'D LIKE to pick money off a tree (in this almost treeless country), you'll have a circus at our "WELL, THAT'S FUNNY" sale. We can't give things away at such ridiculous prices for very long, so we offer you this hilarious, absurd, "go for broke" grand assortment of unbelievable bargains for only twenty hours. If you say you can't make it, well - - - that's funny for you'll miss the buys of a lifetime.

Inasmuch as you'll talk about this sale as long as you live, - - - if you make a purchase here - - - we should tell why we call it: "THAT'S FUNNY."

AMBOY STORE ONLY

We said after the last "Isn't that Funny Sale" it would be the last. Bob promised to do a better job of buying and not end up with any unusual, goofy, or unsaleable items in stock. Well, Bob didn't live up to his promise. We can't give things away at such ridiculous prices for very long. So, we offer this hilarious, absurd, "go for broke" assortment of unbelievable bargains for twenty hours. If you can't make it, well - that's funny because you'll miss the buys of a lifetime. Just read below and you'll see why we call it "That's Funny."

We have always had a policy to special order sofas, chairs, almost anything for our customers without obligating them to accept the merchandise. Well, it's not all Bob's fault. Here are some special order items the housewife ordered, but their husband said "NO!" when the merchandise arrived.

Two custom crafted Smith Bros. chairs, one in red striped velvet, the other in orange. One of them is sure to fit into your living room for only $166.

The Formica is wavy on this one so it has to go out cheap. For $99 you can ignore a few small waves on this dark pine table (3 leaves included). Table only.

We have two swell dining room ensembles that have to go, one suite is oak with a large extension table (42 x 62 x 98) with six cane-back chairs, lighted hutch with glass shelves was priced at $1119.95, is now $799. The other one is also oak by Bassett includes an extension table, five chairs, and a lighted hutch for only $499.95.

Isn't it funny we still have a black vinyl sofa and matching chairs, regularly $329.95 and now $244. Here are some more sofas at crazy prices - 3 sofas in velvet, floral, or solid color were $319.95 now $188 each. Kroehler green nylon, $319.95, now $244; gold striped sofa was $699 is now $399. Also an early American sofa in red plaid originally $379.95 now foolishly priced at $277.

Here are some chairs to fit your needs. Eight chairs go at $77; they were priced up to $179. Ten chairs go at half-price. Isn't this ridiculous? All styles, fabrics, and colors to choose from. Nuts isn't it?

Club chair in black vinyl; a man-size chair at a boy-size price, was $200 now $133. There are 10 recliners around here in either vinyls or fabrics. Start these at $66 and go up to the famous La-Z-Boy model No. 833 at $144, a steal at half price.

Heavens sake!!! One hi-back Pontiac swivel rocker and Dad refused it, so we are selling it for a foolish $88.

Just found a white dresser with mirror that would look great in daughter's room or a triple dresser with mirror in oak, dandy for son's room; regular $229.95 now a bargain at $144. Don't miss it!

Here's a lemon you can't pass up. 5 piece Patio Set in bright yellow floral, just the thing with Spring around the corner, a bargain at $188.00, was $289.95 for the set.

We've got a nice bright green velvet Sofa and Love Seat, just a little on the "loud" side. Can be yours for $599.00, was 900 bucks. Also a famous Smith Bros. Sofa with contrasting Chairs in green or blue stripe. Really a knockout together (we think), but no one else does... So we'll sell all 3 pieces for $699.00. They were $950.00 and this is a gross steal.

Let's take a look at some beautiful Traditional or Early American Love Seats. These sell up to $400.00. To clean up our Love Seat situation we are letting these go from $166.00 on up. Pick one out, you can't lose.

How about some carpet? Found a roll of Green sculptured that should sell at $8.95, NOW for $4.99 a yard. Also a heavy duty Green Twist and Cut Pile that was $10.95 that's SLASHED to $5.99. Also a truckload (pickup truck, that is) of rug samples... 18" x 27" at 49c each, 27" x 54" at $4.99 each... Here's another steal, nylon plush in several colors for $1.99 per square yard. Ideal for the bedroom.

Don't forget our bargain basement. Most items aren't fit to be on our main floor. The prices are so ridiculous we would be ashamed to let our merchants on the street see them, but on Friday get them out of our way.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE G-433: Laura S., aged 44, wanted to divorce her husband.
"But, Dr. Crane," she confessed, "it wasn't because I didn't love him with all my heart!"
"In fact, it was actually because I loved him so much that I tried to make him sue for divorce!"
"That may sound surprising, but I had become bedfast with crippling arthritis till I couldn't feed myself or turn over in bed or walk or even comb my hair."
"He was as patient with me as Biblical Job, and hired a nurse to stay with me in the daytime."
"Meanwhile, he spent $7,000 on me for various doctors and treatments, but I showed no improvement."
"At night, he'd lift me into bed and prop me up with pillows, but after a couple of hours' sleep, the pressure pain would waken me.

"I'd stand it as long as I could; then call to him so he could turn me in bed, for my wrists, elbows, shoulders, hips and knee joints were fixed or 'frozen.'"
"After three years of this I decided I was too much of a burden to him and begged him to divorce me."
"But he refused!"
"Then he read about the many severe arthritics who reported phenomenal improvement after a few months' use of a little ocean water in their soup, tomato juice or milk."
"Well, we live in South Carolina where it isn't too far to the Atlantic Ocean, so he drove to the beach and filled a dozen plastic milk containers with the sea water.

"In three months, I was walking and doing my own housework again!"
"And within six months, I had complete freedom of movement in every one of those formerly fixed and painful joints. And the pain was gone!"
"Dr. Crane, you have urged your readers to try this simple remedy, yet why don't more people follow your medical suggestion?"
Naaman's Fallacy
Biblical Naaman answers Laura.
As the brilliant Generalissimo of Syria, he consulted Elisha to see if he could be cured of his leprosy.
Elisha wouldn't examine him or even speak to him, but sent a message that if Naaman dipped seven times in the Jordan

River, he'd be healed.
Naaman grew so angry at this "brush-off" to his high military prestige, saying that Elisha should have given him some fancy hocus-pocus incantations, that Naaman refused to go to the river.
But his smart servant coaxed him to do so, and when Naaman reluctantly followed Elisha's prescription, he was instantly cured.
Modern Americans are like Naaman, for they compel us to do so, and when Naaman medics to indulge in hocus-pocus, or they think we aren't "scientific" doctors.
"Horse Sense" could cure million, as via the sea water, but ocean water is relevantly inexpensive, so the usual American disdains even trying such a logical approach to his chronic ailments.
Jesus (called the Great

Physician) also was ignored by probably 25,000 cancerous, leprous and other dying neighbors because the local Medical Association pronounced Christ a "quack."
So send for the booklet "The Ocean's 44 Trace Chemicals, enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 25 cents.
(Always write to Dr. Crane, Hopkins Bldg., Mollott, Indiana, 47958, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 25 cents to cover typing and printing costs, when you send for one of his booklets).

Today in History

By The Associated Press
 Today is Wednesday, March 17, the 77th day of 1976. There are 289 days left in the year. This is St. Patrick's Day.
 Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1776, British troops evacuated Boston by ship during the Revolutionary War. They had been under American siege since the Battle of Bunker Hill seven months earlier.
 On this date: In 1836, the Republic of Texas adopted a constitution.
 In 1926, Brazil and Spain blocked Germany's admission to the League of Nations.
 In 1938, during the Spanish Civil War, the loyalist-held city of Barcelona was bombed.

 In 1959, Tibet's Dalai Lama escaped to India during an uprising against the Chinese garrison in Tibet.
 In 1970, charges were made against 22 American army officers and enlisted men in the slaying of civilians at My Lai in South Vietnam.
 Ten years ago: A U.S. midget submarine located a hydrogen bomb which had fallen from an American bomber into the Mediterranean off Spain.
 One year ago: The South Vietnamese government decided to abandon the Central Highlands because the region had become militarily indefensible.

The Doctor Says:

Large belly can be attributed to localized fat accumulation

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.
 DEAR DR. LAMB — I have a weight problem. It's my stomach. I seem to put all my weight on the stomach and it's really big. I am not big in other places, just my stomach. In other words, I have a fat belly. I don't eat a lot and in the evening I don't eat much at all. I do drink tea with sugar, but not too much. What could be the cause of my having such a big stomach?
 DEAR READER — Body fat distribution does have some hereditary and familial characteristics. A classic example is one of the African tribes in which there is a large amount of fat accumulated in the buttocks area. The accumulation is so large that it looks like a localized pillow. Nevertheless, fat storage anywhere means excess fat. You probably do have excess fat inside your abdomen as well as whatever amounts you have underneath your skin. That will contribute to your problem. You can't squeeze down fat that's already inside the abdominal cavity with any form of exercise.

 The two principal attacks on the belly bulge are simply a dietary program that enables you to eliminate excess body fat and an exercise program that helps you take up the slack. Many people do not know how to exercise properly to improve the muscle tone of the abdomen. This is not accomplished just by simple situps or walking or bending over to touch the toes. What you need are leg lifts. You shine. Namely lying flat on your back and lifting your feet straight up and down in these exercises does tend to lower abdominal muscle helps to eliminate that pot. While doing these exercises it's important to voluntarily contract your abdominal muscles.

DEAR DR. LAMB — You please tell me whether or not hair continues to grow or thrive on the human body after death and explain why. What is human hair anyway?

DEAR READER — You have been listening to old folklore. I used to hear that kind of thing when I was a boy and before I became a physician. One reason for this idea is that men often have to be shaved after death so that they won't appear to have a prominent beard. This is not because the hair has continued to grow, it is because the tissue around the hair shrinks. The shrinkage is due to loss of water in the skin and tissues.

Specifically, hair does not grow after death. Hair is nothing more than specialized skin. It is mostly protein. The growth of hair requires nutrients, especially protein, and oxygen which requires circulation, the same as the growth of any other body tissues. When death occurs and circulation stops the oxygen supply stops and hair growth stops. I recognize this statement is probably going to be disputed by a lot of people who are firmly convinced that hair grows after death so I will say in advance that the scientific evidence is as I have stated it, the rest is folklore and misunderstandings of natural observations which are often embellished by enthusiastic story tellers.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE G-433: Laura S., aged 44, wanted to divorce her husband.
"But, Dr. Crane," she confessed, "it wasn't because I didn't love him with all my heart!"
"In fact, it was actually because I loved him so much that I tried to make him sue for divorce!"
"That may sound surprising, but I had become bedfast with crippling arthritis till I couldn't feed myself or turn over in bed or walk or even comb my hair."
"He was as patient with me as Biblical Job, and hired a nurse to stay with me in the daytime."
"Meanwhile, he spent $7,000 on me for various doctors and treatments, but I showed no improvement."
"At night, he'd lift me into bed and prop me up with pillows, but after a couple of hours' sleep, the pressure pain would waken me."

"I'd stand it as long as I could; then call to him so he could turn me in bed, for my wrists, elbows, shoulders, hips and knee joints were fixed or 'frozen.'"
"After three years of this I decided I was too much of a burden to him and begged him to divorce me."
"But he refused!"
"Then he read about the many severe arthritides who reported phenomenal improvement after a few months' use of a little ocean water in their soup, tomato juice or milk."
"Well, we live in South Carolina where it isn't too far to the Atlantic Ocean, so he drove to the beach and filled a dozen plastic milk containers with the sea water."

"In three months, I was walking and doing my own housework again!"
"And within six months, I had complete freedom of movement in every one of those formerly fixed and painful joints. And the pain was gone!"
"Dr. Crane, you have urged your readers to try this simple remedy, yet why don't more people follow your medical suggestion?"
Naaman's Fallacy
Biblical Naaman answers Laura.
As the brilliant Generalissimo of Syria, he consulted Elisha to see if he could be cured of his leprosy.
Elisha wouldn't examine him or even speak to him, but sent a message that if Naaman dipped seven times in the Jordan

River, he'd be healed.
Naaman grew so angry at this "brush-off" to his high military prestige, saying that Elisha should have given him some fancy hocus-pocus incantations, that Naaman refused to go to the river.
But his smart servant coaxed him to do so, and when Naaman reluctantly followed Elisha's prescription, he was instantly cured.
Modern Americans are like Naaman, for they compel us to medicate to indulge in hocus-pocus, or they think we aren't "scientific" doctors.
"Horse Sense" could cure millions, as via the sea water, but ocean water is relevantly inexpensive, so the usual American disdains even trying such a logical approach to his chronic ailments.
Jesus (called the Great Physician) also was ignored by probably 25,000 cancerous, leprosy and other dying neighbors because the local Medical Association pronounced Christ a "quack."

So send for the booklet "The Ocean's 44 Trace Chemicals, enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 25 cents."
(Always write to Dr. Crane, Hopkins Bldg., Mott, Indiana, 47558, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 25 cents to cover typing and printing costs, when you send for one of his booklets).

By The Associated Press
Today is Wednesday, March 17, the 77th day of 1976. There are 289 days left in the year. This is St. Patrick's Day. Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1776, British troops evacuated Boston by ship during the Revolutionary War. They had been under American siege since the Battle of Bunker Hill seven months earlier.

On this date: In 1836, the Republic of Texas adopted a constitution.

In 1926, Brazil and Spain blocked Germany's admission to the League of Nations.

In 1938, during the Spanish Civil War, the loyalist-held city of Barcelona was bombed.

In 1959, Tibet's Dalai Lama escaped to India during an uprising against the Chinese garrison in Tibet.

In 1970, charges were made against 22 American army officers and enlisted men in the slaying of civilians at My Lai in South Vietnam.

Ten years ago: A U.S. midjet submarine located a hydrogen bomb which had fallen from an American bomber into the Mediterranean off Spain.

One year ago: The South Vietnamese government decided to abandon the Central Highlands because the region had become militarily indefensible.

The Doctor Says:

Large belly can be attributed to localized fat accumulation

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.
DEAR DR. LAMB — I have a weight problem. It's my stomach. I seem to put all my weight on the stomach and it's really big. I am not big in other places, just my stomach. In other words, I have a fat belly. I don't eat a lot and in the evening I don't eat much at all. I do drink tea with sugar, but not too much. What could be the cause of my having such a big stomach?

DEAR READER — Body fat distribution does have some hereditary and familial characteristics. A classic example is one of the African tribes in which there is a large amount of fat accumulated in the buttocks area. The accumulation is so large that it looks like a localized pillow.

Nevertheless, fat storage anywhere means excess fat. You probably do have excess fat inside your abdomen as well as whatever amounts you have underneath your skin. That will contribute to your problem. You can't squeeze down fat that's already inside the abdominal cavity with any form of exercise.

The two principal attacks on the belly bulge are simply a dietary program that enables you to eliminate excess body fat and an exercise program that helps you take up the slack.

Many people do not know how to exercise properly to improve the muscle tone of the abdomen. This is not accomplished just by simple situps or walking or bending over to touch the toes. What you need are leg lift exercises. Namely lying flat on your back and lifting your feet straight up from the floor. Moving the feet up and down in these types of exercises does tend to use the lower abdominal muscles and helps to eliminate that lower pot. While doing these exercises it's important to voluntarily contract your abdominal muscles.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Would you please tell me whether or not hair continues to grow or thrive on the human body after death and explain why. What is human hair anyway?

DEAR READER — You have been listening to old folklore. I used to hear that kind of thing when I was a boy and before I became a physician. One reason for this idea is that men often have to be shaved after death so that they won't appear to have a prominent beard. This is not because the hair has continued to grow, it is because the tissue around the hair shrinks. The shrinkage is due to loss of water in the skin and tissues.

Specifically, hair does not grow after death. Hair is nothing more than specialized skin. It is mostly protein. The growth of hair requires nutrients, especially protein, and oxygen which requires circulation, the same as the growth of any other body tissues. When death occurs and circulation stops the oxygen supply stops and hair growth stops. I recognize this statement is probably going to be disputed by a lot of people who are firmly convinced that hair grows after death so I will say in advance that the scientific evidence is as I have stated it, the rest is folklore and misunderstandings of natural observations which are often embellished by enthusiastic story tellers.
